

THE MAGIC OF SAM PEARCE!

MAKING MAGIC

MAKING A DIFFERENCE: Illusionist Sam Pearce is pursuing his dream by performing magic to benefit charities across Canada.

There is no trick to making a living as an illusionist, says Sam Pearce; All it takes is a lifetime of commitment.

Only a complete believer can say something so sweeping and make it sound so easy. But Pearce, who has been perfecting his craft since he learned his first magic trick at age six, is easy to believe.

Pearce, who is currently on tour with his show, The Magic of Sam Pearce!, is travelling across Canada, pursuing his dream.

While he makes his living doing the shows, he isn't the only one benefiting. Audiences enjoy the performance, and the charities Pearce's show benefits reap much needed fundraising dollars. It's the contact with the people who need the fundraising that provides Pearce with the satisfaction he needs.

"Getting the opportunity to work with the charities our show supports is the best part! I have nothing but respect for people who have time for those kinds of causes. It's very selfless." says Pearce.

"Aside from my corporate clients, a large portion of the work I do is community-oriented. What I want, is to create a first-class stage show, but I also want to keep my roots. I want to take my magic to people who might not otherwise have the opportunity to enjoy a theatrical magic experience!"

And theatre it most certainly is, in the very best sense of the word. Combining his skills as an entertainer with illusion, music, dance and audience involvement, Pearce has created a terrific family show with tremendously broad appeal.

"The entire show is jam packed with high-energy magic, hilarious comedy and stunning illusions. It's a 90 minute Las Vegas-style production that is perfect entertainment for the whole family!"
